Over the past few years a group of art therapists have been meeting at the International Postgraduate Medical Training (IPMT) in Australia. We have been inspired to communicate with each other and to build on the seeds sown during these trainings. This weekend will be a time to share our work. It will help us prepare for this year's IPMT theme on 'blood and nerve'. Six art therapists will facilitate a workshop during the weekend. There will also be ample time for meeting each other and conversations. The cost for the weekend is $140.

Program

Irmhild Kleinhenz on this year's theme: 'blood and nerve'
Ellen Sallows-Dynamic drawing
Tania Hungerford-Sculptural Clay work
Robyn Dowling-Tempera, Charcoal Drawing
Fiona Campbell –Slide presentation on her Lazur Painting work
Katherine Rudolf-Painting workshop
Maria - Importance of archetypal imagery in art therapy
