

School Health Consultancy Training

on the 15th and 16th of December 2018

at the Melbourne Therapy Centre, Garden Room, 221 Wonga rd, Warranwood, Victoria 3134.

Time: 10am to 4pm

Cost: $250 (negotiable)

Open to Naturopaths, Homoeopaths, Doctors, Nurses, Therapists and Teachers.

This training is to introduce the work of the school health consultant and how to develop an understanding to work with Waldorf / Steiner schools in the support of all children during their developmental years. Particular focus will be on working with children who have developmental needs such as learning and behaviour challenges.

The content will include the overview of the school curriculum and how it supports the healthy development of the child in age-appropriate learning. Practitioners will learn how to assess the health profile of a child, work out a treatment strategy, referral methods, communicating with teachers and parents and prescribing anthroposophic substances.

The workshop will be led by Irmhild Kleinhenz, Naturopathic Health practitioner, endorsed by the International Anthroposophic Medical Section. Irmhild has thirty years of experience with many Steiner schools throughout Australia and termed this work Anthroposophic Health Consultancy. She will provide each attendee with a Certificate of Attendance that will build up the endorsement process for practitioners to work in this field.

Please register your interest in attending as numbers are limited and restricted.
