To be held under the auspices of the

Mercury Healing Group Inc.

beginning in May 2016.

which includes as teachers

Clive Minton, John Holmes and Ian Wallace

This style of massage was developed by Rudolf Steiner and Dr Ita Wegman during the 1920s and was brought to Australia by Ulrike Faeste in the 1970s. It has all the elements of any skilled human interaction. It is respectful and gentle yet penetrating in effect. It is able to deal with complex situations without using force or coercion.

Behind all symptoms lies a compelling human story. The interpretation of symptoms is at the frontline of both truth and deception in our modern world. This massage is for the relief of suffering, however, treatment can also lead to a clear understanding of the meaning and challenge held within symptoms.

You will learn to stand before the patient, the struggling, the emerging human being, in your own humanity, to observe what you sense before you in such a way that your hands can respond to symptoms and re-awaken in this individual their own independent human purpose.

The Course

- has both theoretical and practical components
- requires some therapeutic or medical background
- needs a familiarity with Anthroposophy
- intends to prepare the student to enter private practice.

An introductory day will be held in February 2016

Enrolment is by application and interview
